BRAKEMAN STIRN DEAD.

Fell from D. & H. Train at Lanesboro and Terribly Crushed Beneath

John Stirn, a Delaware and Hudson brakeman, met a fate on Friday night similar to the one that overtook the late Frederick Mitchell, also a brakeman on the same road. Stirn fell from the top of a box car on Conductor Frank Morgan's train, near Lanesboro, and his life was put out under the wheels.

Just how the accidental death occurred no one knows, only that Stirn was either thrown by the lurching of the train, or that he lost his footing ascending a box car. The train left here at 8.20 for Nineveh junction, and when it reached Lanesboro, Stirn was missed from the car on which he had been standing, Stirn's body, fearfully mangled, was found some distance stopped. The pusher of the train conveyed the deceased brakeman to Carbondale, where he was given over to the care of the Purple Undertaking company for burial.

The deceased was a native of Archbald. He was 39 years of age. About a year ago he came to Carbondale, taking up his residence in the house of office. In his prefatory remarks he ley, left field; Price, center field; Burr, During his brief residence in Carbondale he won numerous sincere friends.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Henry Baker's Sudden Summons Hence-Was a Stranger Here.

Henry Baker, who came to Carbon dale from New York city several months ago, died suddenly at the boarding house of Mrs. Niel, on Dilton avenue, late Friday night. He was about that day and in the evening, while walking around the house, he was stricken with an attack of heart failure and died a few minutes after the arrival of a physician.

Baker was a nickle-plater at the plant of the Carbondale Metal Working company, but it was found expedient to lay him off a few weeks ago, because of un satisfactory services. He was evidently not in a contented state of mind, for on Thursday he expressed the wish that he might be with his mother and sister, who are buried in a cemetery at Pater-

FIRST PUBLIC MASS.

Rev. James Gilmartin, of New York,

Officiates at St. Rose Church. There was a congregation at the late mass in St. Rose church yesterday that filled the edifice. This exception to the rule, as the warm weather decreases the attendance at this mass in favor of the early services, was the celebration of his first public mass by Rev. James Gilmartin, of New York city, who was ordained a few weeks ago. Rev. Father Gilmartin has numerous relatives and friends in Carbondale and it was his earnest wish to offer publicly the first sacrifice in this city. It was a solemn high mass, which he sang, at which he was assisted by his back by the crew, when the train was of New York, as deacon. Rev. John brother, Rev. Patrick Gilmartin, also White, of Denver, Col., who is here on a visit, was sub-deacon, and Rev. Walter Gorman was master of ceremonles The sermon was preached by Rev. Patrick Gilmartin. # MANY CASES OF MEASLES.

An Apparent Mild Epidemic in Progress in Sixth Ward.

What is regarded as a mild epidemic of measles is in progress in the Sixth ward, or the Belmont section. Numerous families are stricken, and under the customary quarantine, though there are several which have not been reported. Three cases were reported on Saturday. The afflicted children are in the O'Macht family on Cemetery street; the Houston and the Drum families on Belmont street. All of the measles cases are mild.

In the same ward, there is another Fritz family on Clark avenue, Gladys. aged 6 years, being afflicted. Sanitary Officer Moffitt has placarded the sev eral houses and has taken the necessary precautions. Although a sting and which is generally of an class, but was a decidedly honorable one. The boys never played better, and had just returned from Buffalo to this but for a fatal inning—the seventh—in which their oppenents secured six runs, they put up a gilt-edged article of the home at Pike and Sand streets to visit national pastime, it was undoubtedly one of the most interesting contests that has taken place in this city in some time and the 1500 enthusiasts who witnessed it were evidently pleased score.
